Be not Weary in Well Doing

Have I not commanded you; have I not charged you as a loving Father and as a gentle Savior? Be not weary in well doing saith the Spirit of Grace. For if you faint not in my command to you, you will reap a great harvest saith the Spirit of the Lord. For much of my church grows weary in well doing and going forward and that which was their first love, many things have come, many things have come to deal with that first love, but I say unto you deal earnestly in your heart with me; bring forth always that desire that I commissioned you from the very beginning to seek me first and if you seek me first then all that you need in this life will be given to you saith the Spirit of Grace. I will give unto you your family; I will give unto you all that you need in this life; walk with me, seek my face, desire me and I tell you nothing will be lost saith the Spirit of Grace.
