

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2013

Prophecy130818A August 18th 2013

Truly Evangelized a World around Them

Nothing else will do, saith the Spirit of Grace. It is my anointing that breaks the yoke. For many participate week after a week, and nothing more than something that solicits something from their emotion; the world has that power. Much of my church participates Sunday after Sunday in strong emotional services, but has no power. The power that I left you had the power to begin first in you to change you from glory to glory, saith the Spirit of Grace; and then from that which changed you, you were able to change the world around you. The first part of you walking free is to recognize the necessity for freedom. For most of my church really is in a place where they're quite comfortable with their shortcomings and their failures and all the things that keep causing them to fail decade after decade; They're not only comfortable; they've not even yet recognized those things in which I came to redeem them from; I not only gave them eternal life, I gave them the ability in this life to walk free, to walk free so much so that the freedom that they lived in truly evangelized a world around them, not just with the gospel of salvation, but with the true gospel that which had the capacity with power in it saith the Spirit of Grace. Because of an emotional church, because a church that has been fed in their emotions for many, many centuries, the church has come to not having the ability to discern between that which is of the spirit that which is of the flesh; but I say unto you that I have given you a path; I have given you a path deliberately to pray the mysteries in my Holy Ghost. To whosoever will they'll come to a place of understanding first concerning their own life and the desire that I desire for them that is to be free in every area of their life and through that path they'll branch out into other place; they'll water other gardens and go here and they'll go there and they'll speak the truth in love and when they have come and when they have gone they will leave in their path the works that I do you'll do also, saith the Spirit of Grace.