

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2013

Prophecy130929 September 29th 2013

Sit in my Presence for Orientation

I come to you at times like this where I allow you to sit in my presence for orientation that you would know me and that you would know my presence and that you would know the power of my presence and the power of my love saith the Spirit of the Lord. Because it's only in that place that you're able as a church and as an individual to understand what changes, what truly changes your life from glory to glory for there is power in my name and there's power to change from glory to glory in my name; but I say unto you that it does not come through emotions; you cannot change through motions, saith the Spirit of Grace. You cannot change through self-condemnation; you cannot condemn yourself into change nor can you determine yourself to change of yourself for look at the body, look at the body in the earth today desiring more, but having less because they are filled not with this atmosphere, but with an atmosphere that charges the soul and the mind and causes only a solicited response, but I say unto you there's something that I gave you far greater than your emotions, there is something that you can contact me with and way beyond any present moment you could go from glory to glory, to glory to glory, to glory to glory, says the spirit of Grace. Learn this place; contact me with this place. I want to visit you outside of these walls and grow you up and change you from glory to glory. Hallelujah Jesus.