Continue to Speak Life

Just stay on the path. Stay on the path. Things are in the process even now of beginning to bear fruit, saith the Spirit of Grace. Like something that is planted. As I said the smallest of all seeds and if you continue to pray over it and you continue to nurture it, you'll find that it grows into the largest of all herbs. It will eventually produce, saith the Spirit of the Lord. Those fruitless, those fruitless fig trees, those ones that are not bearing fruit in your families and in your children, continue to speak life; continue to speak my life over them no matter what you see, because it does not matter what you see in the natural. It will come to pass that they will bear fruit and the wicked one will not be able to take them out. Hallelujah, blessed be the lamb.
