

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center - 2015

Prophecy150111*January 11th. 2015*

Lay it down and come unto me

For I have come to cast out all fear, saith the Spirit of Grace. For all those that are baptized into my love are baptized into that absence of fear and torment. So come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I'll give you rest. I gave you a promise of rest at the new birth, saith the Spirit of Grace. For many lack the benefits that have been provided in that provision. So step over. Go ahead and lay down your heavy burden and believe that I'll cross, I'll cross the void. I come with the blood of my son. I've made you worthy through the blood of my son. For all those who come under that blood and cry out, ask for my coming and the repentance that I bring to your heart. I'm able to cross over into those areas and bring forth a washing and an absence of fear and torment. So come unto me. Come unto me. It's much easier than what you have imagined. Lay it down and come unto me, saith the Spirit of Grace.