

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2015

Prophecy 151108B November 8th 2015

I Hold Back for a Season

The Lord says unto those who consider yourself weak, you are strong. Those that consider yourself having no ability in fact that Lord says you've heard these words of these elders and said but I am a far cry from where they're at, but the Lord says I can close the distance immediately. You're there already. All I need is the willingness of your heart to say Lord I cannot in myself, I don't even think I'm willing in myself, but I will turn my will over to you to help me that you'd change my will into your will. This in saying thy will be done can cause miracles to take place and adjustments inside of you that there is equality among the brethren. None are asleep but all are awakened unto righteousness and put on the garment of praise and walk in the beauty of holiness and fear of the Lord and call those things that I have desired to come upon this region. I could even at the level that you're at bring a strong outpouring. I could but if I did many would be destroyed. I'm waiting for you for those who are asleep to be awakened. Because you would be caught up in the joy and yet still never dealing with your flesh and when that comes there will be a refiners fire and like never before. There will be the days, not to be feared but such glory will be in the church. There will be days as Ananias and Sapphira when judgment will come immediately; and it will not be because of the harshness or hatred. You will not look at me and say oh I don't know him. I don't know that God. No you will know me from least to greatest, but you'll know this as you progress in this it is not you. It is not you. There are none of you that are ready in and of yourself, but I bring you forward and those that are asleep I will awaken you to righteousness so that you are prepared. So that nothing in the days ahead will destroy you. Nothing will destroy you. I hold back for a season until I can come in fullness, but I am shaking that which can be shaken and I'm stirring that which can be stirred, saith the Spirit of Grace.