Listen at the Doorpost

Wait upon me, says the spirit of grace. Wait upon me to hear from Him you're Shepherd, Commander and Chief, Lord of the Church, High Priest, advocate, the anointed one. Wait upon me; a lifetime of council by friends and those who know me and even those who would speak the truth. A lifetime of their counsel to you could not provide for you what I can provide for you in one moment of time in my presence and transferring my life through my words for my words are not just words but my words of life, saith the Spirit of Grace. So in all of your going about and all of your coming in and going out and all of your speaking one to another to hear words of wisdom, there's one who waits for you daily; if you would listen at the doorpost; if you'll take the time. I appreciate, says the Spirit of Grace, your time in the word, in prayer, petition and lifting of tongues that I create inside of you; but the connection, the connection is not always fully made unless you wait; whereas when you speak to me I want to speak to you. Even when there's a nothingness, even when there's a silence I'm speaking in the silence, saith the Spirit of Grace. For in all that you offer to me on a daily basis, complete the circuit. Stay in that place until you're assured that I came and levied on you that proclamation of a servant that can hear and a son and daughter that hears and listens at the door post. For I have many things to say to you, especially concerning your own personal life. Your lives will be energized and strengthened and nurtured. Go forth every part of it by hearing from me. The courage that you seek from a friend; there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother, saith the Spirit of Grace. Hear from me; for I speak always, says the Spirit of Grace.
