

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2006

Prophecy060111a – Jan 11, 2006 A Supernatural Kind of Hope

Thus, says the Spirit of God: In these days, in these hours, and presently as I speak, I am sending and delivering to you the grace for change. That change will come in every way that you are believing Me for, says the Spirit of the Lord.

Know that old-standing, chronic things that have not gone away, year after year, and have by reason of their longevity begun to convince you that you have no authority over them. Know that your hope will come and is coming to a level and such a strength that goes beyond the hope of man and the hope wherein you have stood and brings forth a supernatural kind of hope [from Me] that drives out the enemy of the land.

You will find that all of the inhabitants of the promise land which you are believing for, whether it be your body, your finances, the desire of intimate fellowship in My Presence, or old-standing things in the flesh that have dominated, know this, that the Canaanites and those things that stand as giants before you, the thing that I desire to give you as a wielded sword is the joy of the Lord which is your strength. Receive by faith and know that it is far deeper and far greater than this moment in time, says the Spirit of the Lord.

Rejoice in Me past this moment and confess before Me with worship that these things are taking place, and you will find that, sure enough, I have done what I said that I will do, says the Spirit of Grace.