

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2006

Prophecy060111b – Jan 11, 2006 Develop a Godly Carefulness

The Lord is instructing: In this year, for you to win and win big, it is going to be very necessary for you to develop a Godly kind of carefulness, not a carefulness that is derived from the experience of this world, but in the realm of a Godly kind of cautiousness.

Here's the instruction: You would do well, says the Spirit of Grace, to check more than once on very, very important things, especially those things that involve much of your life and time or energy—not out of fear, but out of a consciousness that your enemy, the accuser of the brethren, the deceiver is doing everything that he can in these last days to go about and lead many astray.

So the Lord says: Check your thoughts and your intentions and even things that you have settled, and you are going as, “I believe that is God, and I believe that is His will, and that is okay with Him.” You would do well, says the Spirit of the Lord, on those higher issues to wait on Me and go back a second time, and if necessary a third time, and make sure that there is no interruption. For many override the interruption that I give them and pass it off and go the way that seems right unto man, but the end thereof is destruction, misery, and confusion. Even in that, know that I will deliver you. Even in that, if you walk the wrong way, I will straighten it back out when you cry out to Me.

But for those of you, says the Spirit of Grace, who count your time very valuable, and you realize that you don't have time to be wasted, know that if you will walk in this kind of cautiousness—for this is very easy for those who know Me, wait on Me—let spaces of time in the Holy Spirit and in tongues go through you, sometimes for days, and then check again. Check again. Do not proceed when there is interruption. Even if that interruption is from your mind. Wait till it is clear, and you know that your proceedings are clarified, and you are good to go, and you will find that the lamp of the righteous will burn brighter and brighter unto that perfect day, when many, many are being obscured in darkness.

And know this: Even those, your fellow brethren in this body, some will not find the fullness of their way, but you will be able to help them if you will take this journey, and you will wait out the hours, and you make your decisions after peace has come and resolved every question. For I say these things unto you for your safety, and for your benefit, and for your prosperity, says the Spirit of Grace.