

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2007

Propecy070923a – Sep 23, 2007 Liberty Against Your Flesh

The enemy has held many in garrison for many years. Think you not that there is not a place in Me that is so free that once you pass that mark, you will turn, and you cannot even find the day of oppression. You will look for it surely, as if to say, “I knew this was once a part of my life,” and yet the freedom will be so strong.

Those things that once approached you and continued to rule and reign over you to the measure that you reasoned it out and said, “Well, this is something I will always have to live with because I’ve gone to this height in God and still have not gotten rid of it in the past, so evidently, this is just something of the flesh to be lived out,” know, says the Spirit of Grace, that I have places in My Spirit where the flesh cannot badger you, cannot trump you, cannot fight you on the basis of that which you have known before in the past. But you will soar as the winged eagle above these things, because when you got the chance, you beat these things to a place that they were no more in your life, says the Spirit of Grace.

There is coming a day, and it is right here on us, that the liberty against your flesh will be so strong that you will not even be able to measure it by any experience that you have had in the past. You’ll say, “I went to this place in the Word in the Spirit before,” and yet you will say that was nothing compared to the liberty that He is introducing a lot of you to now. So the best thing you can do is just run in that door.