

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2007

Prophecy071010b – Oct 10, 2007 A Quietness by His Word and His Spirit

You might as well know this, that many have made this mistake in the past: They've overlooked My miraculous while searching for the spectacular. They have looked for the wind and for the fire, as well as My prophet who could not know Me by the spectacular, but I hid him away, and he found Me in a still small Voice. Know this: It will not be like blazing guns come out and find that it is as if an explosion takes place and blows your whole world in a different direction, but this is greater than that.

You will find from this point on a quiet strength that begins to dictate the concourses of your life, says the Spirit of Grace. For if I came and blew all these things away in a moments time, then when they came back to challenge you, you would wonder "How did these things go?" And you would question your own liberty and whether or not you could make them go again. But out of this quiet strength, you will find that as you speak out of that place of peace and say "Peace be still" to the storm, you will find that you changed the thing.

I want you to understand that the authority is resident within you, so that the rest of your life and in the days ahead, there will be nothing that you will meet that you will not say, "I can do this. I changed it before, I can change it again," says the Spirit of Grace.

So know this: This is greater than a temporary fix or a temporary high or a one-day thing that said, "I felt so good, but then I came down." No, no, no. Know this, that this is stronger than any stillness that can be placed within your character, says the Spirit of Grace. And if you will find yourself looking inward in the moment that the thing that was came to challenge you the most and disrupted your thoughts and sent you on a whirlwind in the past—if you will look to this grace and say, "There has been something given, a quietness by His Word and His Spirit," you will find in that moment in time that you will be able to say, "Peace be still," says the Spirit of Grace.