

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2008

Prophecy080909 – Sep 9, 2008 I Teach and Then I Come

That your hearts may be filled with understanding, understand this: The pattern was set through My Firstborn. Did He not teach and then do the things by which He taught? Did He not train those around Him by the teachings of the Father and then bring forth the works of those teachings?

Understand this particularly, that the anointing of the Presence of worship which has just come forth is not just your obedience to the teaching that has been presented, that is part of it, but the other part of it is the visitation of My anointing to prove Myself in these teachings, says the Spirit of Grace. So if you will do these things by which you are hearing presently, and your heart will yield, I say that I am pleased with these things, pleased, says the Spirit of Grace.

If you will continue to do these things, hear and then obey, know this, that these things will not only continue but they will increase, says the Spirit of Grace. And the magnitude by which My Presence is able to reveal itself will also begin to emanate from this place and will begin to gather others in, and [they] will be caught up in this same atmosphere of worship, says the Spirit of Grace.

So understand. Let understanding fill your heart that I teach and then I come, I come to prove those things by which I have taught. You've passed your first test, says the Spirit of Grace.