

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy090104 – Jan 4, 2009 An Anointing That Breaks Every Yoke

It's not that I won't answer you when your heart's cry is before Me on which avenue to take and which door to go through, and it's not that I don't take great delight in coming with infinite detail to describe to you the most successful path. I say to those who have ears to hear, in front of you today are those paths that can be termed good and those that can be termed acceptable, but there is one that is in Him that I have prescribed for you that is that perfect place of provision in life, provision in health, and provision in spirit, soul, and body.

Know this: Questions that lie before you in the path that will set your feet in a ready place and cause you to run and spring forth into victory is always My heart's desire to give you, with such a clarity and such a pristine attitude of the heart that there is no guesswork, and the fruit of that path justifies and says wisdom is justified of her children.

For those of you who choose in these hours, present tense, to follow after and seek My anointing and give yourself wholly to it, know that the very thing that has caused the dismal kind of perception against your spirit and against your mind to be there on a continual basis against your petition of direction, know this, that My anointing breaks every yoke. It is My sincere desire not only present tense to give you wisdom for success but also at the years, end you'll look back and see the God of your salvation triumphing in every situation of your life, says the Spirit of Grace.

So come on and enter into that anointing that breaks the yoke, for you cannot see with natural eyes nor hear with natural ears what the enemy accuses you of night and day and stands against your petition. But know this: There is an anointing that breaks every yoke and causes you to run further and faster than you thought possible, says the Spirit of Grace.