

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy090204 – Feb 4, 2009 Receive My Word and Prosper

Hear what the word of the Lord would say, and to some degree, you have contemplated this because your heart has been willing to do whatever for the season. But still, oftentimes your mind goes back to the way you've always done things or the things that you are accustomed to. Hear what the word of the Lord would say, for the season, for the season be willing to do what I bring you. I will not place you in a compromising nor embarrassing place, but I will find something well for you. And whatsoever you put your hand to do, do it as unto the Lord, and I will prosper you.

For some of you, it will not be what you are normally accustomed to, but you will enjoy these things until you are able to once again be provided for by the things that you are accustomed to.

Be willing for a season, for have I not shown in My Word in other places that there were times were I made provision through unordinary circumstances and gave wisdom to men to ride out famines and to bring forth the provision in the famine? Receive My Word and prosper, says the Spirit of Grace.