Prophecy090318 – Mar 18, 2009 Steadfast Sustenance

Religion, the works of man, have miserably, miserably failed My Church. What some thought to be a “move” and something to look on, when everything was said and done, nothing was done, only things spoke about and nothing accomplished. Know this atmosphere that you court, this atmosphere that you glean from Me on a continual basis is what the world is looking for, says the Spirit of God.

Know this, that in this is sure and steadfast sustenance, something they can put their hands on, something that changes marriages and children, and bodies being changed, and lives being rearranged. For to come and to go the same, year after year, many, many have seen the Church fail. But know this, that if you will stay on this course and court this anointing, know that the day will come that those who are called and are being called now by My Spirit to flood the altars will find a place of refuge under the wings of that which I am about ready to pour out, says the Spirit of Grace.

They will not even understand what you are trying to give them, and think it strange, but they will know this, that the power was resident and had something to do with meeting a need that was presently part of what was destroying their life. And when they reconciled and put together that, their visit to a place of anointing also brought something of change in their life. They will be back. They will be back. They will be back, says the Spirit of Grace.
