

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy090705a – Jul 5, 2009 I Need Your Authority

Know this, says the Spirit of Grace, that you are those of you who have ears to hear and have endured through many seasons—know that the closer you get to the heartland of revival, the closer you get to the center of the citadels and the fortresses that the enemy has built, the stronger the battle will be, but greater the victory.

The stronger the battle will be, the closer you get to the things that he has built over this region. And the more that you press in, it is evident to you by the bearing witness of My Spirit that you must unsheathe your sword. It is no longer acceptable to know the Word and sit passively with the Word.

You must speak My Word continually that you might win, says the Spirit of Grace. And I will dip the heel of your shoes in the blood of your enemies, for you wrestle not against flesh and blood but against principalities, and the powers, and the rulers of this world. But know this: Where you are seated with Me is already a predetermined place of victory, but I must have your authority, which is your tongue, says the Spirit of Grace.