

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy090913 – Sep 13, 2009 Stand on My Word

Choose, He says. Choose, He says, to win, says the Spirit of Grace. For many decisions are even being made presently on your behalf, by you who are the deciding factor. For many who will win and win great battles and come to maturity still find themselves oftentimes in the valley of decision, for I say unto you: It is always your choice what your tomorrow brings, says the Spirit of Grace.

It is always your choice whether you will rise up above or if you will go along with the great kind of sweeping river that the enemy tries to send against your emotions. For know this: It is always your decision that changes the day and the tomorrow and the year thereafter, says the Spirit of Grace.

He won't stop. The enemy will not respond to your maturity. He won't even respond to how many years you have been in the Kingdom. He won't respond to past works or even how much you know the Word as in days gone by. The only thing that he will respond to is the present decision you make to stand on My Word and speak My Word, says the Spirit of Grace.