

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy091011a – Oct 11, 2009

Arise Thou Who Sleepest

For this purpose, I have come to awaken you out of sleep, says the Spirit of Grace. For those who are asleep do not know they slumber while they sleep. And while you sleep, even though you know there is that warfare that surrounds you, you hardly find the means to gather yourself and wake up and go forward in the way that you know is possible. But know this: Unto you this day has been given a charge and is delivered in the Spirit a place for you to wake up and to arise, thou who sleepeth, and come forth, says the Spirit of Grace.

Arise, thou who sleepest, and come forth, says the Spirit of Grace, and know that you are awakened into a place of prosperity in My Spirit, whereby which I, by the Sword of My Spirit, bring forth a judgment on your enemies—those who have come to bring you into bondage and those spirits of darkness who have come to levy their will against your will.

Know this, says the Spirit of Grace, that in My grace is that grace to bring forth an awakening out of all slumber and a bringing forth into a quickening of My Spirit, says the Spirit of Grace, whereby which you, in these hours and in these days, can rule and reign over your enemies, says the Spirit of Grace.