Prophecy091021 – Oct 21, 2009 In Me Are All the Riches

I was forsaken so that you don't have to be. I was abandoned and left alone so you don't have to ever be scourged with the scourge of abandonment, says the Spirit of Grace. For there are those in this world who surround themselves with great entourages of friends and yet are alone. And there are those who are alone and have great company, says the Spirit of Grace.

So take great hope for your tomorrow, and take great hope for your today, oh, for in Me are all the riches of everything that you are looking for in this life, says the Spirit of Grace.
