

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2009

Prophecy091129a – Nov 29, 2009 A Place in My Grace

I made a place for all this, and everything that bids in front of you for your time. Everything that bids against your ability to settle on Me, I made a place in My grace for you to overcome and go further, says the Spirit of Grace. Think not that I have placed you in a strait and a tight place, for in My Father's house there is room—there is room to be what you are not yet and still keep going forward. And think not that I will accuse you to your Father, but know this, that I have sent One to lift you up and to always plead your case, says the Spirit of Grace.

There is not a “fleeting” moment in My Presence that I see you warring and see you trying to step up and find a place of authority which I have declared that you have. There is not a moment that I look on you and say, “Oh, because of their weakness, they are in that place.” Know this, that I see you as I have said, I see you high and lifted up—high-seated, above all those things, with Me. For I paid that price, and that blood was more than enough, so therefore My continual contemplation for your access into Me is that My grace is more than enough, says the Spirit of Grace.