

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2010

Prophecy100425a-April 25th, 2010

Learn To Surrender

For I must speak to you from where I am so I can bring you up higher saith the Spirit of Grace. For how can a man know a place and experience it until he's known it and experienced it? And how can he speak in relevance to the glory unless the glory that he's standing in is the same that I am giving him and teaching him. Know this; the generations that past learned a great avenue of expression called yeildedness and surrender. Learn these times and as you yield your members over to Me know the gravity, the force that takes you over will surrender your members moment after moment saith the Spirit of Grace, until that which you've desired to go into My presence and can't find the place and the anointing that seems to evade you at times, oh you will find that in this place of surrender that moment by moment that I invade the place that usually is the place that you occupy in thoughts and begin to pull you over into the realm that I exist in and out of that know this, that true holiness, true change is the spirit of surrender saith the Spirit of Grace.

(Tongues...) So get ready for seasons of change not just for one but for all saith the Spirit of Grace. And as you read about and have heard about My visitation upon the forefathers of the faith and those who brought about the revivals of the past know this, that as I visited them and they were willing for seasons to sit in My presence and to be saturated and soak in the things until everything about them was changed where I could go on with them. Know this that as a body I desire to do the same and will do the same for all those who surrender to Me saith the Spirit of Grace.