

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2010

Prophecy100714 – Jul 14, 2010 Ten Thousand Times Stronger

It is the greatest will of your Father to reveal to you who you are in Christ Jesus and bring to full recognition of your rightful place and place of authority, and even by right of birth the pleasure that your Father has in you. Know this, that even the least among you, those who would consider themselves weakest among you are still a thousand times, ten thousand times stronger than he that is in the world, says the Spirit of Grace.

So know and settle it in your heart that as you look unto Me, it will be My good pleasure to reveal to you in the days ahead, even more increasingly, who you are in Me. For it is your adversary's utmost desire to keep you depleted of strength and energy towards the world by continually reminding you of your weaknesses. But know this, that even before you have exercised the right to do the things that you know and teach here in this place that bring you into greater authority, even before you've ever exercised those rights of authority, you are still ten thousand times ten thousand times stronger than he that is in the world, says the Spirit of Grace.

So do not wait for the next time where liberty shows up on your limb to exercise the right to share with the world who I am, says the Spirit of Grace. For I am going to give you the utmost pleasure to stand outside of yourself and to look at yourself and to see that even in or on what you would call your most miserable day, you're still ten thousand times ten thousand times, in other words, there is no measure to it above that which is in the world, says the Spirit of Grace.

So this is My design, says the Spirit of Grace, those of you who catch as you would say a "clue," know this, that the closer you get and gravitate to the source of My heart, which is the family out there which have not yet come in, the closer you'll be to the very intimate parts that I want to come and convey and share to you, because My heart still, from the Cross till this point, bleeds: souls must be born-again, says the Spirit of Grace.