Prophecy101020 – Oct 20, 2010 Stay on the Path to Awakening

Stay on this path, says the Spirit of Grace. For many and you yourself are being awakened by the trumpet of My Love. This is not to your condemnation. This is to your fortitude and your strengthening, and know this, that all who come along in this journey will find themselves humbled by it and strengthened by it and so willing to turn to the right hand and to the left and say to others of this body and of other places, “Come, follow me as I follow Christ and we together walk into His glory.”

Know this, that this awakening is not by might nor is it by power, but it is by My Spirit, says the Lord. For the very songs that I sing in the earth today, I sing the melody thereof, and others hear that melody and are writing about My coming and the freedom which I bring with Me. For know that I come, says the Spirit of Grace, and My reward is with Me. For know this, that I ride upon the high praises of My people, and I bring forth a reward of fellowship and intimacy into the next generation, says the Spirit of Grace.
