

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2010

Prophecy101024a – Oct 24, 2010 That You May Be One

For this cause I sent My Son who shed His blood that you may, that you the Body of Christ may be one as We are One, says the Spirit of Grace. For have I not called you to be seated with Me in Heavenly places?

Know this, that even in those remote places of your searching for answers and even in the place of kingship where you sit with Me together as joint heirs, know that everything concerning this truth, everything concerning this truth that you are one through Me and by Me and by My blood and that you are to love one another as I have loved you, know this, that all the answers to even the most remote of your situations revolves, settles, and finds its foundation in this, that you love one another, says the Spirit of Grace.

Have I not said that a threefold cord is not easily broken? Know this, that the lifeline that I throw to many of you, you miss. You miss and argue with yourself and say, “Oh, that kindness and that love that You are asking me to pour out to my brother, how does it have anything to do remotely with You answering anything about what I am asking You to do?” But I will show you in the days ahead that the scales will fall off of your eyes and that you will walk in this always impending truth: that the more that you are able to show My love and walk in My love, then I am able with My authority to flow through you to everything that you ask Me in this life to become a part of, says the Spirit of Grace.