Prophecy101031 – Oct 31, 2010 Torment Replaced by Peace

Many of you, I say as a loving Father to My children, [are] waiting for some other sign to come along to say that I have accepted you and have not denied you the opportunity to walk in freedom and to be filled with life.

Know this, I desire to heal you from past hurts and those things in which you've managed on your own, but oh, I desire to come alongside of you and strengthen you and nurture you and lay you down in peace and raise you up in great strength. So much so, that in the days ahead that the evangelism of the Gospel will be—they will look at you and say, "Oh, what a tenderness of spirit has evolved." And you will say, "No. No evolution has taken place, but Jesus Christ has come and brought forth peace where there was once torment," says the Spirit of Grace.
