Fight, Says the Spirit

Hear what the Spirit would say: Do you not know and do you not understand? Oh, but I say, Yes, you do. You know and understand, but all the more, all the more the advantage to those who lean into this understanding.

Know this, that I have anointed you for service, and you have the capacity in Me to wear many hats—to take off one before you come in here, and put on another to worship Me in spirit and in truth. That you will know this knowledge—this knowledge will gain you all things for the Kingdom's sake.

Know this, that there is always, always a war in the Spirit to go some place that you have never been. A war for you and a war against you, says the Spirit of Grace. But if you could see, then you might be very encouraged, for greater are those that are with you than those that are against you, says the Spirit of Grace.

Do you not know? Yes, yes, and you do know but must come to understand all the more that the dominion that you take will be the level by which your city, your state, your nation, and your world is taken under My dominion. For they do not know. They will live their life out and perish in darkness, not knowing the warfare that you understand and know by your Father. So take dominion in My Spirit, says the Spirit of Grace. Do not settle for good and do not settle for acceptable.

Know this, that when you lift your hands and you worship Me, that you're pressing past places in the darkness that have tried for many, many centuries to cover this planet and even the geographical location that you stand. Know this, that when you break through into those stratospheres of the Spirit, you will gain authority. You will not know until you go there what that freedom feels like, but I tell you on this side of it, and I cannot lie: Fight the good warfare.

Do not be distracted by those things on your right and on your left, and know this, that you have been empowered to take off one hat and to put on another, to take off one garment and to put on another, to war with the sword, to put down the masonry trowel that builds the wall but [instead] pick up the sword and fight, says the Spirit. Fight, says the Spirit. Fight, says the Spirit, and you will win.
