Prophecy110427 – Apr 27, 2011 Your Departure Is at Hand

Rejoice for the day is at hand, says the Spirit of the Lord. Rejoice and be glad, exceedingly glad knowing that your departure is at hand, and the things to be changed in the between time is all for My glory and for the exaltation of the Kingdom of God. And for those things which will change and be changed for My glory, says the Spirit of the Lord, know this, that in these days I am empowering you to go forth as ministers of light, for the night cometh when no man shall work.

This time will be over, but now is the day, so run with the message of truth that My Son is risen in His glory.
