

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2011

Prophecy110501 – May 1, 2011 Gravitate to My Heart

For many of you desire a move beyond anything that you've ever known or experienced, and I desire these things for you more than you desire them, says the Spirit of Grace. But know this, that these last and great moves of God are centered around the love of the Father in the Church for those who must be born again, says the Spirit of Grace. For you'll find that the more that your heart gravitates to the center of My heart, which is souls, the more that I am able, through the invitation of the open door of your spirit and obedience to these things, to come and move corporately for you and demonstrate the power of My gifts and My glory, and yes, even the miracle working power.

Know this, for My heart, My heart is, as has always been, for the lost sheep of My family to come in. So gather them, and as you gather them, watch the signs and the wonders follow you into this place and into greater places, says the Spirit of Grace.