A Path in This Destiny

All these things I have ordered, and you have a path in this destiny, says the Spirit of God. All of those who are in this place know that the same trust that you trust in Me, apart from any voices. He's even saying, He's even identifying me in this and saying: Even the voice that you hear presently [Prophecies from The Family Prayer Center – 2011], you know Me past anything that man could say to you. But out of that genuine inner witness of truth, I am testifying to you that you're on a path that if you do not step off of it, give it time, it will deliver you into the place that you've dreamed of, says the Spirit of Grace.
