

Prophecies – The Family Prayer Center – 2011

Prophecy111023b – Oct 23, 2011

Expect Me in Everything

As ambassadors of light, understand that I am the Father of light—Father of lights, being plural. You being the manifestation of My Son in the earth, know this and take your liberty to do all that you do in the Name of My Son so that even in the mundane seemingly, not only these times but other times outside of these walls, that in all that you do, expect, expect, says the Spirit of Grace, My anointing. For it is My anointing that breaks the yoke.

The mind set of religion says this: only those things that have been prescribed in the past, in the past as to spiritual things, [looking at the Word, speaking the Word in exact reference, or spending time together as brothers and sister in a local assembly), but know this: My Presence far outruns all of those descriptions, says the Spirit of Grace. Expect Me in everything.

Expect Me in everything. Have a conscious awareness of Me in all that you do, for it will be in this awareness that I will come with My anointing. For those who look for Me will find Me. Those who are not conscious of Me will not reap the benefit of My Presence. But in all that you do, whether it is in business or whether it is with family matters, or whether it is that you separated yourself in your own thinking in times gone by, saying, “Those are spiritual things, and these are fleshly things. The Lord is with me, but I’ve got to do this myself,” I say all things, says the Spirit of Grace, belong to Me.

You have become My sons and My daughters, My Bride to be—My Bride now and My Bride to be, says the Spirit of Grace. So I take as much joy in the small things that you in the past have equivocated and thought, “These are flesh.” I take great joy in this, says the Spirit of Grace. And I say these things that you might live a more fruitful and fruit bearing life. For it is My anointing that breaks the yoke.

Blessings can be upon you without My anointing, but when My anointing comes and the yoke is broken, then that which you desire to get over to man and those family matters—you keep making your family members mad with your witness. Leave them alone in yourself [your strength] but expect My words.

You’re trying to present an argument. You’re trying to present an argument in your best effort, and I appreciate your effort, but you’ve not looked to My anointing. You’ve thought that it was religious words, like a quoted Scripture or something that you experienced in a dream or a vision or something you could say to them that had Christ’s Name identified to it. But I say to you, behind the scenes I have won more people to My Son than you can imagine, though His Name was never mentioned. I have won them by the fruit of their love, says the Spirit of Grace.