

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2012

Prophecy120222b February 2nd 2012

Places of Solitude

Check those old places, those places of endeavor in My presence. For war, war, many in war, many are often run off from their places of solitude in my presence, but I never left and I am here. So check out and revisit places of intimacy and long lasting places of worship. I desire to baptize you over and over again so much so there's a freshness a freshness that is coming. I'd never leave you Fatherless, I said I would not. I know the war that many of you are facing I know I know what you've stood under just to speak my name. I know what you've stood under just to say I love you Father and I love you Jesus. So I promise you, I promise you as those that are not orphans that if you'll visit those places, lift up holy hands in places of solitude I'll visit you with refreshings you'll wonder, you'll wonder how, how could it ever be so wonderful. The newness and the refreshings. Hallelujah Jesus, Hallelujah Jesus, Hallelujah Jesus.

