Prophecy To Bronc and Candy-May 2013

By Gary Carpenter

Abundance in every way Expand the Tents

The days of abundance truly are here, they truly are regardless of what you see; this is a pivotal week; it's not just been teaching; it's pivotal; things will change. What you've seen in a small measure is about to come in a large measure things; things that, things that seem big right now like even financial things; looking back you'll say, "that was nothing at all, that was nothing my God, what he had in mind was so far beyond,; Father I am sorry I wasted one minute on these trivial things; Father I thank you for the abundance; I declare with my mouth speaking in the name of the Lord the days of abundance are here in the name of Jesus the days of abundance are here." Hallelujah, praise God, praise God, hallelujah and he's not just talking about finances; he's talking about abundance in every way; expand the tents. I'm telling you the harvest is coming; the harvest is coming. Hallelujah; be ready to expand the tents.
