I'll Turn Your Enemies to Flight

He's come with more to try places that are unfamiliar to many of you and then old familiar places he's brought even to a higher standing of challenge; The Holy Spirit is talking about the one who comes to oppose, but you might as well know that if he's here against your life he's not talking about this service per say he's talking about stepping up a place of a fight inside of you against; He said count it all joy, count it all joy when you fall into divers test , trials, temptations; knowing that the trying of your faith will produce a patience, having that patience come to its perfect work was also described when Paul said that patients give over to hope and hope maketh not ashamed because the love of God is shed abroad in your heart. So give me what it takes to get past whatever it is that he's come and count joy because knowing this that if you do endure the thing that he's wanting to stop you for is the last day out pouring and the intercession because souls and especially your own flesh and blood is stake; so everything that he's brought to withstand you is not just for you but I have made you; I have called you as kings and priests and given you my anointing. I have not asked you to fortify yourself in a fortress and keep yourself at fear not being able to go forth but I called you to go forth as an offensive army to take a stand in these last days. Do not fear him who opposes you physically, spiritually, mentally, emotionally, in any way that he could possibly come, do not fear him for I have overcome the wicked one, says the Spirit of God. I've placed within you fearlessness but you must understand you cannot, you cannot win with the mind and you cannot win with the soul; you must give yourself over to that place that does not, on a usual place it doesn't make much sense, it doesn't make much sense to the natural man; so I tell you go to that place. Some say, how do I go to that place? Turning yourselves over to psalms and Hymns and Spiritual Songs, singing in the Holy Ghost and making melody to me, saith the Spirit of God. I'll turn your enemies to flight; I'll cause them to understand there is no way of escape for them; they will perish under those high praises, saith the Spirit of Grace.
