

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2014

Prophecy140209-1 January 9th 2014

Go into Hopelessness

For I have given you, I have given to you in this life not in the world which is to come but now and I said the power to tread upon scorpions and serpents and to take up those kind of things, I was not speaking about the natural things that men's minds go to. I was declaring unto you by reason of the power of the spirit that lives within you that you could go into the most desperate, the most hopeless of situations in this life because I empowered you. I said nothing and I mean nothing shall by any means harm you. I've empowered you to face and face him down at his best and not only over your own life but the next stage that am asking you to go to and many of you are dwelling in now is to impart that hope to a dying world to give those the same opportunity in the Spirit to advance and to go forward that you have found; that you'd find that which I've really called you to; I've called you to intimacy; I've called you to come and to know me but beyond that there's another place out of that I'm asking you to go into hopelessness and make it very hopeful saith the Spirit of Christ. I'm asking you to go in and believe what I'm telling you about yourself; you are free; for he whom the Son is set free is free indeed; if you believe this then you will set others free; if you believe this then you will go in and do what is necessary for this last day harvest cause I am telling you he will is coming. My son is postured in a position; he's ready but the harvest is what he needs. Go out among them; fulfill the last words of Christ and know that in your going and coming that I'll protect you. I'll protect your family. I'll protect you, your mind, your body and everything about you and I am asking for this harvest saith the Spirit of the Lord.