

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2014

Prophecy141123 November 23rd 2014

I want You to Come to Offer Thanksgiving

I'll bring you in these last days. I'll save your family. If you go to me, I'm not asking you to come like religion has taught you with something in your hand to try to entice me. I say to you that the blood of my son has already enticed me and brought full recompense, saith the Spirit of Grace. I don't want you to come before me and offer and say I'll do this, I'll do that. What I want you to come to offer thanksgiving for the sacrifice that ended all things at the end of the world saith the Spirit of Grace. What you've got to stand on is my son's blood on every fight. I love it when you share with me the intimacies of your heart. I love that. But what I love is when you take my word and say this is what you said Father. I see you in the midst of your darkness. I see what he's come with to destroy you with. When you stand and speak my word against everything that your mind, your heart, your body is crying out indifference to. It brings me great pleasure that you choose my word above all things saith the Spirit of Grace. So choose my blood; his blood, above all things in this life, saith the Spirit of Grace, hallelujah.