I'm Counting on You to Win.

My counsel unto you is spirit and it is life, saith the Spirit of Grace. Anyone who comes and sits in my presence finds no condemnation. Even against all your weaknesses. I bring forth council. There's never condemnation. There's never fear in my presence. Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden. I will give you rest. That was first spoken to those who come in must come in to the rest of salvation and inside that there's a continual place for all weaknesses and all shortcomings are traded over for the grace that I bring in the compassion as a father. The pity, the pity is not a pity that is self-induced. It's the kind that brings forth a compassion that changes, changes from the inside out. It's the assurance of my love towards you and that love cast out fear, saith the Spirit of Grace. I will never leave you. I will never forsake you. I am with you in the moments of your weakness in the moment of your trial. Stand up strong and declare my word. Fall in love with me. For in my love is the strength. In my love is the strength, saith the Spirit of Grace.

Hallelujah Jesus. Hallelujah Jesus. Yes Lord.

Speak my word over your families. For the fight that you're in is not just a fight for yourself. When the enemy argues with you to lay down your weapon-try and to sit on the side line and to quit; know that he's not just focusing on you. You're the gateway. You're the gateway for this dispensation, but you specifically are the gateway of my reaching your sons and your daughters. It's through you that I exact and bring forth the authority to go and deal with their lives in their place of hopelessness and inability to go forward or to see because of the blindness that is in them; it's you. It's you that will bring forth redemption in their life and healing. It's you that will touch the nations and you that will touch the public, the employee the men around you. Your war is not a war to win just for yourself; it's far greater than that. Your war is a war to win for all those that I've made you accountable for, saith the Spirit of Grace. I've not asked you to do something that you cannot do, but know this; your contemplations to win or to quit, to go forward or to stop, it's not your decision to make. You're battling for the masses. You're battling for people. You're battling for your family. You're battling for people that you've never even met. I'm counting on you. I'm counting on you, saith the Spirit of Grace to win. Not only am I counting on you. I've provided everything you need. Don't stop. Don't stop. Win for them. Win for yourself. They can't come out of it. They can't swim out of it. They can't swim to the top. They'll drown without you. You're the lifesaver. Win for them. Win for yourself.
