There is no Penance to Pay

One of the great privileges that I have given to Sons and Daughters is to live with the attitude of a clean slate before me. Nothing in my value and nothing in your value is more important than a clear conscience, saith the Spirit of Grace. I'm not speaking of people of imperfection or inability to make mistakes. I'm speaking to those who understand the cleansing power of my blood, saith the Spirit of Grace, and for those who have one time or several times concerning the same condition made the same mistake. Each time when you come back with sincerity to my blood all is cleansed; working towards the final outcome of total submission in my power which is granted to you from the beginning to extinguish all things. To many of my children and many who hear my voice live with regret thinking that if you hold some measure of regret that that pleases me as if you're paying penance for something that you've done in the past. If you have asked me I have forgiven. If you have asked me I have forgotten. There is no regret to be has, saith the Spirit of Grace. Live in a continual place in that place is momentary meaning at any moment in time all can be cleansed, all can be washed, saith the Spirit of Grace. If you know how to tell a friend or a spouse forget about it; it's ok; how much more I'm able to forget about it and say it's ok, saith the Spirit of Grace? Do not live in regret. Live in a place of expectation. Live in a place that I am, desiring always as your Father to get over to you the very best that Jesus paid for, saith the Spirit of Grace. There's not one of you, not one of you that have ever even destroyed your body through this world or through appetites of this world or even the overindulgence of things that are natural. There's not one of you that have destroyed your life in any way, through any open door that in just whisper everything, everything is closed; all things are forgiven. The books read free and clear, saith the Spirit of Grace. Yours, yours is just as acceptable to receive anything that I provided. Think not in yourself there's a penance to pay. Once I begin a life of prayer and am consistent for time or when I complete this fast or complete that, now is the moment, saith the Spirit of Grace. All things are ready. All things at my table are always ready to be received, saith the Spirit of Grace.
