Hunger is the Prerequisite to the Outpouring

Hunger is the prerequisite, saith the Spirit of Grace. Desire is the prerequisite; it's the beginning; it's the for-part of miracles. It's the for-part of going into God. Pray for yourselves corporately and individually that your hunger increases for, have I not said that those who hunger and thirst will be filled? For the man or woman who comes to a place of hunger and desire will find a way against all odds to go in against all, all temptation and against every distraction. For those of you that sit in this place, you are here tonight because hunger put you on this walk and others could not understand; even family members could not understand your separation into the things that you desired and the things that you saw. So pray earnestly for yourselves and desire to be filled with hunger with each time that I fill you with hunger, each time that I fill up that place; know that it's my desire to also create inside of you a thirst, a desire for more so that your satisfaction only leads to more, saith the Spirit of Grace. For in that satisfaction in that hunger you'll come to noticeable places in this year, saith the Lord. Many have lost their place. Many have lost their vision. Many have lost their desire. For those they do not even know, they do not even know that they've lost. Many believe that they're at the same place that they once were and yet through self - deception and through being led astray by Satan, they themselves are self - deceived, saith the Spirit of Grace. Pray for these and pray for yourself that you enter not into temptation. Pray for yourselves and among those that are leading the charge; pray for them that they continue to hunger and thirst for the kingdom of God to come in fullness, saith the Spirit of Grace. For hunger is the prerequisite to the outpouring, saith the Spirit of Grace.
