

Prophecies - The Family Prayer Center - 2019

Prophecy190210 February 10th 2019

Courtship

Continue to seek this place, saith the Spirit of Grace. Courtship, courtship, courtship a continual place of courting my presence corporately and personally, saith the Spirit of Grace. For the more that you're able to set in my presence the more that I can pull you in. The more that I can pull you in the more that I own of your heart and the more that I own of your heart the more I own of your treasures. Those things that you treasure most give unto me. Give unto me for I desire that I would bless you in a place where I could come to you and transfer over the wealth of my spirit. For the desire of your heart is to know me. The transfer of me pulling you in and giving you a place of richness in the spirit. Some men have faltered themselves by thinking that the wealth of this world is a satisfaction or even the things that I desire of them. I take no pleasure in these things but I take pleasure in the wealth of your spirit being transferred and you laying down before me as a father and me owning all the treasures of you heart for where a man's heart is there is where his treasure. Those places, that place where his treasures are; wherever there at, that's where his heart will be also. Either way the truth stands. Know this that I desire to bring you into that place. Courtship, staying in my presence outside of these walls will bring you into that place. It will bring you into a place where you would not recognize yourself in the days ahead, saith the Spirit of Grace. Grace! Grace is the transfer of my strength for your weaknesses. For those who make no excuses but look up in a private place of intimacy I'll exchange; I will exchange years and years for that which has been taken by your submission to lies and traditions but I desire for you to know the truth and to walk in the fullness of the truth. Be filled with life every day, saith the Spirit of Grace. I have not ordained one moment on this earth for you to have a blue Monday. I've not ordained one moment on this earth for you to be sick, impoverished, tired, afflicted, for my glory in the midst of affliction is that you would stand up against persecution and stand up against the temptations of the flesh to go after sin and stand strong, but I have no glory in the weaknesses that destroys the body and emotions or leaves a person depleted of resources. I desire to lift you up. I desire to continually make this transfer to you, saith the Spirit of Grace.