

Prophecy - The Family Prayer Center

Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John Will Return

Prophecy191208 - December 8th2019

Know, I will take over. I will take over in the days ahead, and I have already taken over through instruction and through Presence. And when I say I will take over, it's not that I am not already in charge, but that which you solicit from Me as in miracles and moving of My Spirit, and that which will catch up many into a place of intercession, those seasons will come upon you. They will last, and they will fuel. They will be the fuel by which you will go further. And then those seasons will lift, and great works will be moved out of those seasons and wrought out of those seasons, then I will come again, and the heart of the intercessor will always be maintained in that place.

I will come in My services like this and greater ones as I will, as in taking over the entirety of being able to saturate people with My Presence, so strong that no one will move hardly or be able to exit the building. And from that, great glory will come to the city. From that, there will be a magnet, a magnetizing to this place, not to glorify man but they'll follow it all the way back to its origin. They will find, "Where is this coming from? Where is the talk of life, those things that are happening and spreading in the city? Where are they coming from? Where is the epicenter? Where is the core?" They will come follow it back to this place. Many like such services will I give unto you and greater beyond.

Stay in intercession those of you who are, because you are helping bring about these things. Your authority I am borrowing, not just today, but I have been borrowing it for quite some time to transition into and cause this river to go in the way that I want it to go, says the Spirit of Grace. So keep pouring yourself over to Me as a living sacrifice. You are not only changing yourself, you are changing and bringing forth the destiny of this church and the house and the vision of revival, and together, like tributaries joining one stream, until it produces a great river.

Houses like this one and other places and other intercessors who are your fellow brothers and sisters are interceding for this to come about, and while they are interceding, they are also giving their life over to the purging process and allowing Me to come in and get them ready for this last, great final-day harvest, says the Spirit of Grace.

I cannot get over to you, presently, to your mind, because of what you have not yet seen before, in the past. I cannot get over to you the indubitability of how deep your rejoicing will be in days ahead, says the Spirit of Grace. You will find that the joy that will fuel your inner being, because of the things that will be happening and the people that will be being saved, will be as if it were an energy to you within your mortal body. You will find that the task to sleep will be of something that will be somewhat of a task, not because of restlessness or fear that keep many of you awake present tense, but it will be an excitement like a child has the excitement before a celebration, before Christmas, before their joys of the toys. But your toys, your excitement will be men's lives being changed.

You will find that the further you go, and especially you intercessors, that there will be a great joy in sacrificing your time, your energy, and your life, knowing that the dividends that will be paid will be paid, and I will not relent, says the Lord. I will not hold back the dividends of souls, healings, and miracles in the transformation process that brings forth the fullness of the exact replica of My Kingdom back in the earth, says the Spirit of Grace.

Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John will return—the works and the essence. The body at-large will be shocked to hear and to see what they will hear and see from this place. I put you on aware but do not be afraid, that many will rush in the days ahead or when they see the explosion of My glory. They will try to merchandise it. They will try to catch it up in ways in which Simon the sorcerer said: Give me this; I'll pay money for it. But as he was rebuked, so will they be also rebuked.

I am expecting you as a caucus of elders, learning line on line, precept on precept the Word of God in doctrine, that you will be able to turn away the gainsayers in love, but if all necessary, with a stern and solemn rebuke, that those who will rush in and will try to create for themselves gatherings, attention to them self in the midst of the revival—you will be a firewall in the spirit against what has debilitated and brought down and destroyed many such revivals. But you are right, and I declare unto you by the Spirit that you are right in your understanding that the last, great harvest of souls will be that which is brought up all the way to My return, says the Spirit of Grace.

What I am preparing you for is not something that comes and then something that goes, but I am preparing you and those who are a part of this and watching, and those who will hear in days ahead, that you will be part of something that is as strong as case-hardened steel. It cannot and will not be broken by the times. It will not be broken by persecution. It is a rock. It is a rock that cannot be broken; it cannot be split. It is the foundation of the sayings of My Son, and as the apostles wrote upon these things and prepared the Church, I saw and prophesied to you through many places that there would be an end-time Church that would welcome Me back.

There will be many growing pains in which you will grow, and there will be many times that you will have to prefer your brother. But there will be nothing that will split you. There will be nothing that diverts you because of the foundation that you have, says the Spirit of Grace.

Do not fear regarding history. History is a teacher; it is not a dictator—it does not dictate your future. No church that you have ever seen that came and went is a replica to you—no movement, no past tense revival. The revival that I began on the day of Pentecost was meant to be alive and well today, and yet because time and man's doctrine destroyed the foundation through religion, I was forced to go underground through many centuries. But I have come back, as I have always been here. But I have come back to bring forth this last and great Church, says the Spirit of Grace.

So come apart. Listen, listen, listen to your instructors. Listen to the Word of God. Prove all things. Prove all things by My Word. The time is short. The harvest will be great. Your joy will be beyond words, says the Spirit of Grace.