

Prophecy – The Family Prayer Center

On This Path

Prophecy201025 – October 25, 2020

It's not by might, it's not by power, it's by My Spirit, says the Lord. This place that you walk in, this path that you walk in is full of My destiny, it's full of My purpose. Though there might be many detours that would be fastened to this path to detour My saints, those who stay straightforward and continue to follow Me will quickly pass all impasses and all detours, says the Spirit of the Lord. [They] will be those who come into places where My Word goes to thirty, sixty, and one hundred fold. Those who humble themselves will also be exalted, says the Spirit of Grace. So as you bring yourself and present yourself, not only in this place this morning, but as a continuation in your life going forward, know that on this path everything is provided for. Nothing was left out. Everything – healing, ministry to yourself and then through yourself to your families, marriages strengthened, bonds strengthened, physical bodies and infirmities of every sort come under this.

Some say you and those of it would present it as a catch-all, and the Spirit of the Lord says, it does – it catches all, it brings all into effect, it's the fix-all that man cannot do or yourself cannot do. On this path and in this place of coming forward in Me is a place where all things become subservient to the place that I've provided, that place of authority in you, says the Spirit of Grace. And as I said in My Word that you need not that man teach you, but you have an unction from the Holy Spirit, I was not negating the office of the teacher. But for all those who come forward, many places will be questioned. But if you will continue on the path, you'll know that the unction of My Spirit will answer all questions and bring all debate to a place of quietness, as confirmation of what is the perfect path for your life and those to whom I have associated you with for this, says the Spirit of Grace.