I Just Want You

Prophecy210704a – July 4th, 2021

Stay on the path, says the Spirit of Grace. For I've called you to an expertise in the spirit that no man can accumulate or come to, except they spend time in My presence and stay on this path. Further than, and of much more of an expertise than a surgeon that would operate with meticulous detail to bring forth or to extract, I've called you to be a people of extreme focus, to be laser focused. This is the entrance through intimacy in My Spirit. Stay in this place, for more baptisms of My love will come to you. And your greatest testimony, one to another, will be, "I'm falling in love with Him to an intensity that I cannot describe with mere words." Know this, that out of this baptism will these things be birthed in the earth.

As easy as you live and breathe, says the Spirit of the Lord, that which is now does not typify the ease by which all these things will take place. The realm which I showed to some will be magnified to all that will stay on the path, says the Spirit of the Lord. But know this of certainty, that no man will enter that place, male or female, unless they pass through this place of intimacy and seeking My face, says the Spirit of the Lord. There will be no surrogates in the spirit, [nothing] second hand [or] passed down. Man must touch Me. Though there [is] an army of corporate and many, each one in that army must touch Me, face to face, says the Spirit of the Lord.

Do not be an observer. Do not sit on the sideline. Do not hear the reports of one coming to a place of knowing Me in intimacy and love and more peace, and only appreciate what I can do for others. For what I do for one, I do for all, says the Spirit of the Lord. I just want you, says the Lord. As you cry out unto Me, I cry out unto you every day. Every day.
