

Prophecy – The Family Prayer Center

Salvation: Your Time of Destiny

Prophecy220417 – April 17, 2022

Easter Sunday

If you've met someone in this congregation and somehow come into relationship with them via friend, boyfriend, husband, or wife, or some kind of relationship, and even not yet born again – Know this, that prayers and intercession have been being made for you in the past without you knowing it, and even without them who prayed it for you knowing it. But I was praying that even through the relationship you would have with someone else, you'd come into this place and hear truth like you've never heard truth, and be born of My Spirit. I've directed your path to come to this place, even through relationships. Now is your time of destiny, says the Spirit of the Lord.