

Prophecy – The Family Prayer Center

My Presence Is Needed for This Hour

Prophecy230129 – January 29, 2023

The time is come that the sower is overtaking the reaper, says the Spirit of Grace. The times in decades gone by prophesied are coming to maturity now. Presence is one of the first waves that I have planned on this agenda of Heaven to fulfill your mandate. For you'll need more and more of My tangible presence. As He walked, so you'll walk. The assurance in My presence is infallible. You'll know that everything that you've been taught and everything that's become a part of the limbs of your tree – that which has been planted will be assurance to you by the presence that abides continually, says the Spirit of the Lord. Expect a habitation in your homes. Expect a habitation in your workplace. Expect a habitation in and out of church. For presence and intimacy is the order of the day.

Think not that I'm ready and willing to lavish presence on you just when you're in a closet of prayer, but expect that I'm at your right hand, that I am surrounding you always as you walk, as you talk, as you're seated always [in Me]. Understand that the sower overtaking the reaper is the continuous harvest that has come to maturity in this hour. And presence will accompany it.

My presence will baptize your faith. I never meant for you only to stand just in the blatancy of what was written. That is a valid stand, but it is My best to come and lavish on you the essence of those things that are in your heart and spoken by your mouth to be filled with presence. For this gives great confidence to the giver. It gives great confidence to the receiver. It gives great confidence to those to whom we'll witness the miracles, says the Spirit of Grace.