PROPHECY230927 – SEPTEMBER 27, 2023 DAYSTAR BREAKS THE MORNING

I have seen the cries of your heart. All those who are pressing in to this passion, whether here in this place or those that are watching and viewing, it doesn't matter how far you are scattered abroad, your authority and your unity is not in the physical, but it is in the spirit, says the Spirit of Grace. So continue to bring forth this final intercession in these last days. You will shore up other places where you are and in other places where revival is scheduled, says the Spirit of the Lord.

Your place is to stay in Me and give yourself over to Me in the obedience that I have prescribed to you in the Spirit and asked you and you knowing My voice, says the Spirit of Grace. But know this, the enemy against revival has stirred up his passion against this place and other places to stop the final move. But press forward, says the Spirit of the Lord.

Do not look to the right or to the left but stay bridled, bridled to Me, laser focused on the very things that I have spoken to you, says the Spirit of Christ. And you will walk past; you will walk past and you will find the Daystar breaks the morning, and more things will come on line, and you will find that which you have searched for all your life becomes a reality, not only in the spirit but in the natural, says the Spirit of Grace.
