Sow to the Spirit and You Will Reap a Great Harvest

Prophecy231105 – November 5, 2023

For there'll come a time when the sower will overtake the reaper, says the Spirit of the Lord. For you cannot sow to the spirit and continue to sow to the spirit that the harvest will not come, says the Spirit of the Lord. And when that time comes, you'll see. Things will change, and [it will affect] that which seemed impossible in the realm of the harvest and the filling up of My House, and the things in the natural that are held back by a great war in the spirit realm. For if your eyes could be open present tense to see in the spirit to those who stand by day and to those who stand by night – as I showed the servant of My prophet, when his eyes were opened and he saw that there were more for them than those that were against them, that the hills were filled with an angelic host – so I say unto you, My angel army assembles and prepares the path, along with My Spirit, that is in front of you. And as His (Jesus') time came, when I raised Him up and sent Him out after 30 years of preparation, know this, that your time will come. And those who hear these words in other places, your time will come.

When I unleash My Spirit upon you and those that surround you, it will be as it was when He came to His fullness, and that I came. I came in the fulness of My anointing and the power of My Holy Ghost to bring forth My plan in the earth. So, I say unto you again, know this, that the hour is coming, and now is, that a great Harvest will hear the voice of the Son of God through the trumpeters of those whose lives have been changed and truly engaged in this message. Things will change. For I say unto you that it is impossible in the realms of the spirit to sow to the spirit that you will not reap a great harvest, says the Spirit of Grace. For whatsoever a man soweth, is it not written, that shall he also reap?

Continue in the path. Look up into the heavens and ask of Me, and I'll show you great things to come, says the Spirit of the Lord. But know this, there be far more that are for you than against you, says the Lord. A time will come that you'll not recognize this hour in which you stand. But it will be a distant memory of a place that you came through for the purpose of the Harvest in the last days, says the Spirit of Grace.
