Pierce the Darkness

Prophecy240128b – January 28, 2024

But how would you know, says the Spirit of the Lord, as looking into things that you cannot see? For no man can see into that realm except I give him the eyes to see. No one can see the movement in that place – the movement of troops, spirits of light, and spirits of darkness. For I report to you in that which you cannot see and hear of yourself. But from the voice of My Spirit, I speak and say to you that in that which you cannot see, there has been a penetration, a piercing of the darkness in this time tonight, says the Spirit of the Lord. There has been a piercing even into the realm of darkness, and a shaking that has been generated from this authority through tongues of edification and some tongues of intercession that have been generated in this last hour. Already, there has been a shift in the spirit realm, says the Spirit of Grace.

So, I recognize your humbling yourself even in this hour. Know this, that there is great reward for those who diligently seek Me. For I'll bring that reward in the realms of the spiritual outpouring that I desire, and in your own life, there will be reward, as in My presence and favor and blessings. I am well pleased, says the Spirit of Grace, with your humility in this night. Continue on in this path and watch as you continue to pierce the darkness and change things over this city and over lives. Much will change in this year. Many things will change. Even in the struggle, there will be much victory, says the Spirit of Grace.
