The Verge Is at Hand

Prophecy241002 – October 2, 2024

For those that are seeking this and have sought it their whole lives, the verge on the verge is at hand. Stepping over into this is at hand. A little more, a little more pressing. More tenacity to stay, more deafened ears to the rhetoric of the enemy begging you to stop, to slow down, that it's not working. For the verge you're stepping your toes [onto] spiritually, right on that edge, [is] which I'm about to bring, as I have said. But these words "about to bring" are fashioned with a foundation of many sayings of prophets, prophetic words, and My Word, the culmination of all things. And a billion-soul harvest is on the verge of being launched. It is at hand, so close that your hand can reach out spiritually and take hold of it.

This thing is not far from you – reach out. Reach out, says the Spirit of the Lord. Pull this thing close to your spiritual bosom and own it. Own it of yourself, walk into it, cherish it. Cherish it like a child, like your child. Cherish it, for I've given it to you. It's at hand. You're on the verge, so step over.
