Intimacy Precedes All Things

Prophecy241006 – October 6, 2024

For it's out of that place that all things proceed, says the Spirit of Grace. One is not in front of the other. The great and mighty works, the baptisms and the outpourings, and all the miracles proceed out of one place – your sonship, which I've provided for you to know Me face-to-face. This precedes all things. Not the works that bring you into, but the intimacy and the fellowship by which all works are manifest, says the Spirit of Grace. For it's in this I desire to draw you close to Myself. I desire to draw you into those places of knowing Me in the fulness of truth, not only in My Word but in My presence, says the Spirit of Grace. That all these things proceed out of you like breathing the next breath of air, without thought, without religion of speech, but in intimacy of heart says the Spirit of Grace.

I will heal your families by this place of intimacy. Those of you that are in authority, stay in this place and let these things be exuded from you. Because from you, as the oil ran down the beard of Aaron all the way to the bottom of his skirts, know this, that [that which] proceeds out of you is out of that place of intimacy. [It] is an anointing that breaks the yoke over your families, over those whom you love and I've given you in this life to steward, says the Spirit of Grace.

So, stay in this place. Do not go by formulas. Use only that which I've taught you through intimacy. Never let it become something apart from intimacy. It will not work. Your faith in formulas will not produce. But that which comes by knowing Me face-to-face, you'll have an incredible effect. You'll bring them in, into the destiny that I have for them, says the Spirit of Grace.

Every moment counts, every moment counts. Each moment that you spend in My presence counts for your spiritual influence and dominion over those you love, says the Spirit of Grace. So, stay in that place. Great days are ahead, says the Spirit of the Lord.
