

Prophecy – The Family Prayer Center

Heed My Words

Prophecy250209 – February 9, 2025

For many of you that are here and some of you that are here, and some that are watching and listening, this is a curtain call. The necessity for you to stand against the wiles of the devil is present tense. For there's a choice set before you, says the Spirit of Grace. For if you choose it, you'll find yourself overcoming, and overcoming will bring forth more overcoming until you come into a perfect light. And things of healing and things of deliverance will come on, and that invitation is to you.

But know this, says the Spirit of Grace, and as I prophesy absolutely, if you do not heed these things, your end will be in darkness and continual darkness. And your life will grow further and further apart from light and the integrity that light brings to a life of deliverance and hope and happiness, says the Spirit of Grace.

So, embrace the light and embrace the things of truth and the things that bring truth, says the Spirit of Grace. And you'll find that I'll come alongside of you and as a father nurtures a daughter, as a husband who truly loves his wife will come and give her everything she needs to promote her life into grace and glory, know this, that I will not forsake you. But I'll cause you to prosper and be healed, says the Spirit of Grace.

Marriages are at stake, both here and there through the camera, says the Spirit of Grace. Marriages are at stake, marriages are at stake, marriages are at stake, marriages are at stake, says the Spirit of Grace. If these things are not heeded to and held in great regards, not as a man speaking, but God speaking and the Word speaking, divorces are scheduled.

Children are at stake. Children will be damaged. Do not, do not believe the report of the world through lying bloggers and psychologists that say, "Children get past these things." The only children that ever get past divorce and separation are the ones that are healed by My Spirit. But separations are inseparable in destroying, psychologically and emotionally, children, says the Spirit of the Lord. This is why I hate divorce, says the Spirit of Grace, because it destroys not only the nuclei of the family, it will destroy the children, says the Spirit of Grace. There is no way to keep that from happening. Separation will cause it.

Now is the time to heed these things and rejoice in knowing that [because] you've heard them, you can also obey them, says the Spirit of Grace.